Governor Reagan Will Address Saddleback College Dedication

Governor Ronald Reagan will be honored guest and speaker at ceremonies dedicating Saddleback College next month, announced Dr. Fred H. Bremer, superintendent president.

The governor will participate in the program on the afternoon of October 15, a featured event for Dedication Week October 14-20. Ceremonies will mark the opening of one of the state's newest community colleges and will take place at its campus in Mission Viejo.

In its first effective year, Saddleback College will begin initial instruction September 23 for an estimated 1,000 freshmen students.

Known as the "Sweetheart of Orange County" because of its formation by the voters on Valentine's Day, February 14, Saddleback College only became a taxing entity this last July 1. It was just year ago that the first administrator was appointed to the college and procedure to make it a reality commenced.

During this year the new district, taking in 48 per cent of prestigious Orange County, about 376 square miles, has taken tremendous forward strides.

The staff has grown to 38 full-time staff members, an extensive curriculum for an expected 1,000 freshmen students has been adopted, the electorate reaffirmed their support approving a - 9.5 million bond proposal financing acquisition of land, construction and equipment, and an "instant" campus of 13 steel-frame buildings has been constructed in the hills of Mission Viejo.

Students will register at the 15-acre campus, located east of the San Diego Freeway on Crown Valley Parkway, September 19-21. Classes will commence September 23.

Saddleback is the 67th public junior college district. It will be one of the 87 public junior colleges in the state. The college was named after the nearby mountain that dips between Santiago and Trabuco Peaks.

Dedication week will end Sunday, October 20, with public tours of the campus.

NEWS FLASH

This newspaper went to press before the results of yesterday's votes on the bond issue for the San Joaquin School District were tallied. Complete results will be printed in next week's issue.

Kiwanis Hear SAC Prof. On Calif.

Dave Hartman, professor of social sciences at Santa Ana College, was the guest speaker at last week's meeting of the Kiwanis Club of Mission Viejo.

Hartman spoke to the service club on the subject of California History. He traced the richness of the state, from the standpoint of natural resources, and spent some time on future projected use of the states resources.

The service club also had their annual election of officers at this meeting. Elected to the position of president was Jay Ingall; first vice president, Guy Johnson; second vice president, Norm Fohrman; treasurer, Otto Guli.

These elected officers will take over their duties on January 1st.

Board of Directors for the coming year were also elected. They include Ben Axt, Bob Freiberg, Miles Huard, Domenick Tamiatti, Don Vaughn, Nick DiGiuro and Ed Clement.

The local service club meets every Tuesday at 7:15 a.m. at the Mission Viejo Inn.

Mission Viejo Bound

Downey Savings and Loan Association has been granted approval for a new branch office in Mission Viejo, it was announced by Murice L. McAlister, president.

Scheduled to open in temporary quarters on Oct. 1, the office will be located next to the Safeway Store in the shopping center at La Paz Road and the Santa Ana Freeway.

El Toro's Biggest Brush, Grass Fire Burns 15-Acres

By Dan Wooldridge
News Editor

El Toro's largest grass and brush fire of the dangerous fall season hit last Sunday, Sept. 8 in the large field across from the El Toro Postoffice.

According to Fire Captain Ray Russell, of the Laguna Hills Fire Station, "the Cavanaugh fire broke-out at 3:50 p.m. Sunday South of Cavanaugh, West of Jute and across El Toro Road from the postoffice." The fire call was responded to by six engines, one bulldozer, and 33 men from Laguna Hills and surrounding departments.

The Cavanaugh fire was the second major brush fire in the immediate El Toro area within the past two weeks. Approximately 15 acres were burned during the fire which was under control by 4:32 p.m. and units standing-by until 7:14 p.m.

Laguna Hills Station Captain Connors directed the fire fight on the hot, low humidity day. According to fire officials the fire at one point jumped El Toro Road west of the post office before fire control was reached.

According to fire prevention officers Roger E. Hefhenke and Mike Walsh the cause of the fire is still under investigation. No structures were damaged during the blaze and the County and State fire equipment responded promptly.

Fire Prevention officer Mike Walsh explained that the prompt response showed the ability of the Fire Department — even though local units had been dispatched to fight a fire in Riverside County to respond to local dangers.

The Laguna Hills station has an average of 2-4 fire calls each week with over 178 runs this year already. This station serves El Toro, the hills above Laguna, north to Sand Canyon, El Toro Marine Base, down to the Crown Valley Parkway including Mission Viejo, and toward Trabuco Canyon.

The County fire department has recently opened a new temporary fire station in Mission Viejo with the permanent facility to be built next year.

Fireman Walsh continued by explaining the department's crisis period is approaching with the expected arrival of the Santana winds. The Santana winds are very hot and dry breezes coming off the desert such as the type found last year during the disastrous Paseo Grande fire.

Next week the County and State Fire Departments ability to cope with fires and their equipment will be examined in a series examining the local firefighting force's ability to cope with differing situations. Orange County's newest piece of fire equipment will be displayed along with the men who man it.

South Orange County YMCA Plan 30 Youth Groups By November 1

Leaders of the South Orange County YMCA this week indicated they expect to organize at least thirty youth groups by November 1, making the program the largest year-round program in the area.

Leo Blood, Nation Chief for the El Toro YMCA Indian

Guide Nation reports he expects between 15 and 20 "Y" Indian Guide groups with a possibility of a new nation in Mission Viejo.

Chuck Hughes will be working in the teen-age level and the YMCA staff predict at least four new teen groups.

Jim Craig, organizer for the groups made up of boys in the fourth, fifth and sixth grade feels six is a conservative estimate when attempting to pinpoint the total groups expected in this age bracket.

EDITORIAL COMMENT: By CARL E. VENSTROM
Editor and Publisher

Freedom Of Press Includes All Points Of View

The main purpose of a newspaper is to inform the readers of a given community on what's happening in their area and to present, through advertising, the wares for sale by the local merchant.

A small percentage of space is given in the form of editorials, where the publisher presents his views on current problems. These opinions are kept to the editorial page and are marked distinctly as "editorial comment or opinion."

Another small percentage of newspaper space is devoted to feature stories or columns of human interest. These stories do not reflect policy of the management of a newspaper but reflect the times we live in as seen by the writer, who is given a by line.

The management of most newspapers feel an obligation to their readers to present the total news and to allow many columns to appear that they might personally disagree with. They do this since they believe in "freedom of the press", the two-party political system and the mental health that goes with expression within a democracy.

In last week's issue of the Rancho Reporter our young editorial assistant — a recent college graduate — expressed his views on the Chicago incident as a result of his attending the democratic convention.

In an editor's note about this article the publisher explained that this writer was on a leave-of-absence from this newspaper and that his views "do not necessarily reflect the view of the management."

We thought our readers would be interested in how a local writer, under the age of twenty-five, felt about the convention after witnessing it first hand. We thought our readers would be interested in how some of our young people feel and think.

We think this is important since in 1972 more than fifty per cent of the American population will be under 25 and could control the vote.

This vote block is a reality whether we personally like it or not.

Several of our readers called us and congratulated us on presenting a fresh view point in this part of Southern California.

We were not here to answer one particular call, but was disappointed to learn — by our office staff — that this caller was very angry with us for presenting the story and called us a "red."

The amusing thing is that we do not agree with many opinions of our young assistant but we will always believe that he has the right to be heard.

"The right to be heard" and "freedom of speech" is the very essence of a democracy.

As long as we are able to run an independent newspaper here in America, our readers will hear from many voices and many facets of opinions.

And let us remind you again, that our "Letters to the Editor" column is always open to you. Whether we agree with you or not, is really unimportant.

What is vitally important, however, is that we continue to have a diversified "dialogue" within our communities, our state and our government if we are to continue and exercise a democracy.

PARALLEL PARKING ONLY is the new sign being put into place by these two workmen from the Orange County Highway Department in front of the El Toro Post Office. RANCHO REPORTER PHOTO

Letters to the Editor

Dear Mr. Venstrom,
I want to congratulate you on your papers coverage of the violence which took place in Chicago.

The eye witness account of the situation by Mr. Wooldridge, although I'm sure it will not change any minds concerning Mayor Dailey's tactics, may cause some people to think twice before embracing the "security" that is a by-product of the police state.

I find the RANCHO REPORTER a refreshing change from many of the other papers being printed in this county. Your policy of printing the news — all the news and not just that which represents one view point or one bias is indeed admirable.

Thank you and Good Luck,
Patrick Farrell
El Toro

Dear Mr. Venstrom,

This is just to say many, many thanks for your article of "Meet Your Neighbor," you did our family.

We had many, many people make comments on it. The write-up was just great. Keep up the good work. Again we thank you.

Old-Timer Urges Airport Isolation

By McKay Mitchell
Staff Columnist

Some years ago, in the late 30's and early 40's, there was considerable aviation military development in Orange County, included were the Santa Ana Air Base (now Orange County Fair Grounds), the lighter than Air Base (now the Helicopter Training Base) and the El Toro Marine Aviation Base.

This prewar development was necessary and since the end of that conflict, have been returned to normal civilian use except the El Toro Base which continues with an accelerated higher motive power basis.

Only the sheep, the range cows, the orange groves and the next of kin know how many crashes there have been on the hills and fields — uninhabited 25 years ago — but the situation has changed in the last few years. There is now a thriving metropolitan development where sheep and cows and oranges flourished.

With the high powered, high noise, high speed engines now being used the military facility — most needful in our critical political situation — should be relocated in a now remote area to eliminate the hazard to citizens living here now.

MV GOP Women To Hear Kirk

September 24th is the date of the first meeting since June of the Mission Viejo Republican Women Federated.

A cafeteria luncheon is planned. It will be held in the Don Quixote banquet room at 11:30 a.m.

The speaker of the day will be Mr. George Kirk. His subject — "Listening to the Right Voices". Mr. Kirk was formerly in Public Relations with C, F & I Steel Corporation and assistant to the Personnel Director of the N. Y. Stock Exchange. He is a Rotarian and resides in Leisure World. All members and guests are urged to attend the meeting.

Coming events announced by President Sandra Wand include a bridge marathon and a lingerie party. The lingerie party will be held at the home of Mary Lou Carr, 25231 Champlain Road, Laguna Hills, on September 26th at 7:30 p.m. A buffet will be served after the party.

America Seen Leader In Rebirth Of Faith

America may well lead the world in a resurgence of faith unparalleled in modern times, predicts Robert B. McLaren, former president of the Fullerton Council of Churches.

McLaren, a Presbyterian minister and a college professor, is coordinator of the University of California Extension lecture series, "Religion Today: Crisis and Relevance".

The lectures will be held Tuesdays at 7:30 p.m. at the St. Joseph College Auditorium, 380 S. Batavia, Orange.

"I believe in this religious renaissance because our clergy more and more recognizes it must help solve the important social questions of our times and because of the enthusiasm of our lay people," says McLaren.

"Increasingly, clergymen are abandoning comfortable rectories and parsonages to work and live among the people in true New Testament style.

Seminaries are giving up compulsory courses in ancient Greek and metaphysics in favor of psychology and sociology in order to better equip students to minister to the needs of the people."

"True, church attendance has dropped in America, but not nearly as much as in countries such as England, where it has fallen to 5 percent.

"Many clergymen I have talked to in England, and with whom I correspond, have a defeatist attitude," says McLaren.

"I think that the support which the government gives to churches as the official state religion is proving to be a millstone around their necks."

"Their people are saying 'why should we support the church when our tax money is already doing it?'"

"By contrast, here in America, the people feel they have a stake in their churches, since they are its sole means of support," McLaren believes.

Can values of religion serve as a guide to man in the space age? Is religion able to give man the vision and strength he needs to move into an uncharted future? Do the major faiths perpetuate deep divisions among mankind? Could they bridge these divisions? Is today's crisis in faith a recurrence of those which brought forth Buddha, Christ and Mohammed?

These are some of the questions to be explored by McLaren and six fellow lecturers during the lecture series, which is available for credit. Series and single tickets will be available at the door.

McLaren, who lives at 900 E. Union, Fullerton, is presently assistant professor of education at Cal State College, Fullerton, and director of the chapel at Whittier College.

SJC Urges Community Involvement In Arts

When the doors open at Saddleback College September 23, the curtain will go up on a fine arts program that will give full meaning to the institution's role as a community college.

The college is looking for adults in the community to participate in extensive musical and dramatic programs.

From the very beginning Saddleback will integrate the college community and academic activities, said Dr. Doyle C. McKinney, fine arts division chairman.

"Numerous courses are being offered in the evenings specifically for this purpose," he explained.

The College Chorus and College Orchestra will meet Monday and Tuesday evenings, respectively, according to Richard Raub, Saddleback College music director.

Two noted musicians in the college district will direct the activities and classes. They are Richard Dastrup, director of the choral program at San Clemente High School, who will direct the choir, and Nahan Fitterman of Santa Ana, concert violinist and conductor, who will direct the orchestra.

Miss Bonnie Cogbill, theatre director, will coordinate the classes in Introduction to Theatre Arts, a class scheduled to meet Thursday evenings.

Plans for the class include guest speakers from professional actors and playwrights and field trips to productions. The class will attend a performance of "Your Own Thing" during September, Dr. McKinney said.

Other classes in the evening division include Oral Interpretation and Fundamentals of Acting.

Gaucha Season 1968

Hartman's SJC Footballers Prepare For Big Game #1

Coach George Hartman's Gauchos of Saddleback College made their first public appearance last Saturday in a non-scorekeeping football scrimmage against Mt. San Jacinto College.

The all-freshman Gauchos displayed eagerness as young neophytes on the college gridiron at Mission Viejo High School Stadium. Prior to the scrimmage, the team had been staying and working out at the Marine Air Station in El Toro for one week.

The Gauchos returned to the Marine station for another week of training before beginning classes September 23, opening day at the new college campus in Mission Viejo.

Coach Hartman trimmed his team down to 36 players from about 50 candidates at the offset.

"We separated the men from the boys," he commented.

"We have a freshman football team that is anxious to play the game."

During the training at the Marine station, the Gauchos have worked out on the field twice a day and studied the finer points of the game in "skull sessions" under the instruction of former Little All-American nominee Coach Hartman.

Assistant football coaches are Jay Roelen and Doug Fritz. Bill Otta is trainer.

(Mission Viejo), Tom Hawkins (San Clemente).

The Gauchos will meet the first test in a home game September 28 against Imperial Valley College. Game time is 8 p. m.

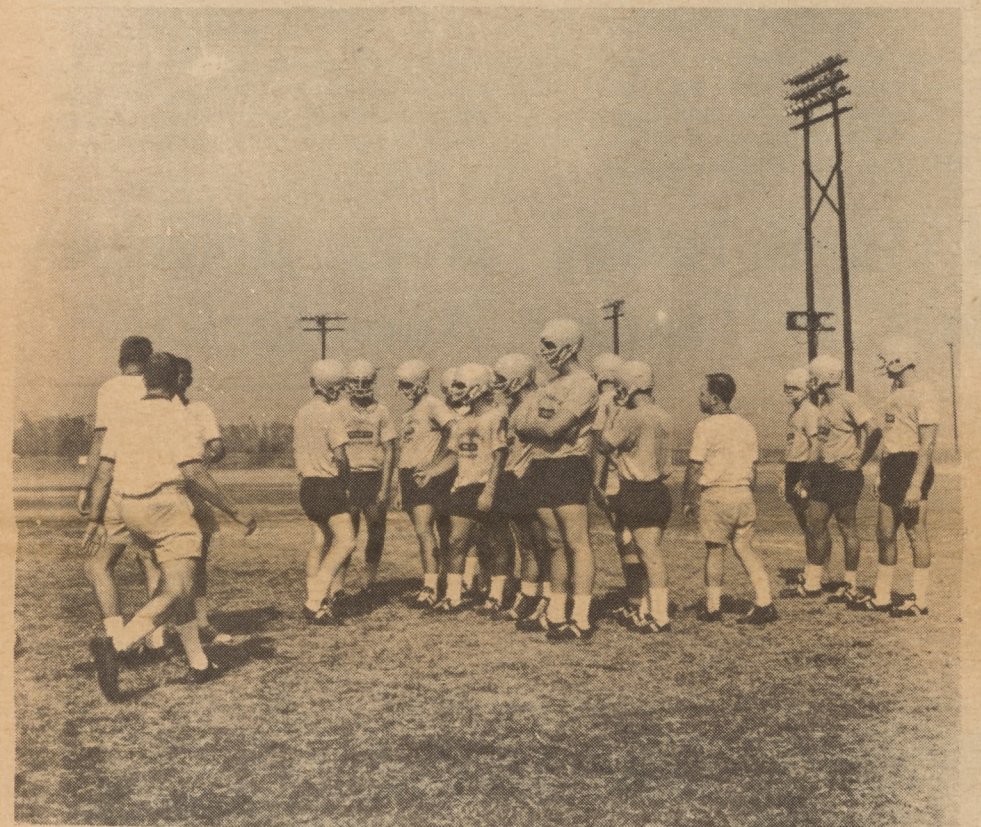

All eight home games will be played at Mission Viejo High School Stadium. Seven hundred and 20 reserve seat tickets went on sale at the current offices of Saddleback College, 25001 La Paz Road, Mission Viejo, Thursday (September 12). Price for season reserve ticket is $14. Season general admission tickets will be sold for $10.

Individual game tickets will be $1.50 with military personnel tickets at $1, high school and junior high school students with Associated Student Body cards at 75 cents and children under 12 years of age, 50 cents.

The football schedule for the Cardinal and Gold men of Saddleback sees them meeting Cal Lutheran on Sept. 21 at MV stadium.

7:30 p. m.

The announcement was made jointly this week by Gunther and Rosalia Holland of the Rosalia Holland Studios and Prain S. Singh, executive director of the Rehabilitation Center in Orange.

Special guest performer for the ballet program will be well known American performer and innovator Gene Marinaccio. He will be joined by his American Concert Ballet Company in performances of his creations, "Adagio for Strings" and "The Fifth Day."

All proceeds from the September 28 Rosalia Holland Ballet Festival will go to help support the work of the Rehabilitation Center for Crippled Children and Adults. The Rehabilitation Center, located at 1800 E. La Veta in Orange, provides a broad range of comprehensive rehabilitation services to physically handicapped children and adults throughout Orange County.

generation who prides himself on being liberal and aourant.

This older man is determined to accept his daughter's one-week old husband, even if it kills him and well it might since the groom is more than just a beatnik rebel and indeed more than liberality can endure.

A general meeting of the Rancho Community Players was held on September 16.

Rancho Players Set 'Generation' Comedy

The Rancho Community Players will hold readings for the fall production of "Generation."

William Goodhart's play "Generation" is a contemporary comedy calling for five men and one woman with Bunny Hammer directing.

Mr. Goodhart's play attempts to bridge the "generation gap" honestly and refreshingly with a representation of the older

Art Showing Opens At Purcell Gallery

The art galleries at Chapman College here and at California College of Arts and Crafts in Oakland are holding reciprocal exhibitions this month.

On view in Chapman's Purcell Gallery through September 27 is an exhibition of paintings, drawings, and collages by Robert Ballard of Oakland, who is curator of exhibits at California College of Arts and Crafts. Gallery hours for the exhibition are 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. weekdays.

The gallery at the Oakland college is currently showing paintings and drawings by Harold Gregor of Fullerton, who is an associate professor of art at Chapman College. The exhibit will close September 25.

Originally from San Diego, Ballard received his

PTA Sponsors Block Parent Program For Child Safety

Staff Writer

Children in trouble on the streets are being instructed on where to go for immediate help in the Olivewood PTA area. The program was started in July and follows a national trend of about five years.

"We wanted to know that all our children had some place they could get to quickly for help," said Mrs. Kathy France, PTA president. She explained that children not close to home usually do not know what to do if they are hurt, afraid of someone, or lost.

Under the "Block Parent" program, each block in the area ultimately will have a home displaying a "BP" card, usually in a front window and easily visible.

Someone will be home at all times at these places to handle emergency situations involving children. Areas involved include Republic Homes, Laguna North (north of El Toro Road), Lake Forest, Cardinal Park and a portion of Capistrano Highlands.

Orange County Sheriff's Department is cooperating by registering all block parents and providing information on how to contact its office, together with fire and rescue units and ambulance service.

Parents are urged to inform their children of the location of the block parent home and acquaint them with the sign. It is a white card with the letters "BP" in large, orange letters visible in any kind of weather, Mrs. France said.

"We still aren't finished," the PTA president noted, "since all of the area is not yet covered. We need a block parent in every block to provide the best safety coverage."

Persons interested in cooperating in the program may secure more information by calling Mrs. France at 837-0750, or Mrs. JoAnn Margolis, 837-0264.

Mesa Verde To Host $115,000 Haig Open

The richest golf tournament in the history of L. A.-Orange Counties — the ninth annual $115,000 Haig National Open Championship — will be played Oct. 24-27 over the Mesa Verde Country Club course.

Last year, as the Haig Scotch Championship, the tournament was alternate shot competition, with two top professionals teamed as partners.

However, the Haig National Open Championship will be a conventional 72-hole PGA tournament — every man for himself.

The purse for the 72-hole championship will be a whopping $110,000. The prelude to the main event will be an 18-hole, $5,000 pro-am on Wednesday, Oct. 23.

In 1969, Costa Mesa city officials expect the tournament to be transferred to the city's Costa Mesa course where Ron Reif is director of golf.

Mesa Verde Country Club will be the third site of the Haig. The first five events were staged in Sebring, Fla.

The last three were conducted at Rancho La Costa Hotel and Country Club near San Diego.

JC Football Seats Now Available

Season reserve seat football tickets for Saddleback College are now on sale.

College officials report that 720 reserve seat tickets will be available. The price is $14. Season general admission tickets will be available at $10.

Individual general admission tickets are $1.50. Military personnel will be admitted for $1. High school and junior high students with Associated Student Body cards may purchase a ticket for 75 cents. Children under 12 will be admitted for 50 cents.

Clifford

Air California Vice President Robert W. Clifford has been elected to the board of directors of the airline to fill a vacancy created by a resignation two months ago, Carl A. Benscoter, Air California president announced.

Clifford, vice president-operations and maintenance, joined Air California's executive staff in Orange County in May after 19 years with Lake Central Airlines, Indianapolis, Ind. He was vice president-operations for Lake Central.

Clifford announced the appointment of John Huffington as manager of maintenance, with offices in San Francisco. Huffington was director of maintenance for Trans International Airlines, Oakland, Calif., for the past six years.

Joining Huffington on the San Francisco Maintenance Base administrative staff is Brandon Kaufman, newly appointed supervisor of maintenance training.

November, according to William R. Mason, president of The Irvine Company, developer of the Plaza and of the entire 622-acre Newport Center in which it is situated. The company's inland headquarters on 83,000-acre Irvine Ranch in Orange County will move to the new sea-view tower designed by William L. Pereira & Associates.

Buildings in Newport Financial Plaza have a breathtaking 360-degree view of the Pacific Ocean, Newport Harbor, the Santa Ana Mountains and University of California, Irvine, campus.

It was pointed out that the busy seven-story Medical Building in the Newport

Medical Plaza to the east on Newport Center Drive features a somewhat lesser percentage of glass exteriors simply because doctors have more need for privacy.

Both the "floating tower" design and land use planning enhance the view and, also, set the scene for a complementing financial tower of 20 stories or more eventually to be set back from Newport Center Drive north of the twin structures and "between" them.

While each twin has 40,079 net leasable square feet of ground floor (banks, stock brokerages, etc.) and the buildings are 60 feet apart at that level, the towers are a full 160 feet apart, preserving vistas for all tenants.

'Generation Gap' Series Experience For Parents

You really can't understand the much talked-about generation gap without sharing some of the unique experiences of today's youth, insists Dr. Jerome Kirk, assistant professor of sociology at UC Irvine.

So convinced is he of this, that he plans to stage a professional psychedelic light show as one of the live demonstrations in the University Extension lecture series, "The Generation Gap", starting Sept. 18 at UCI.

"It's the closest that one can come to the actual drug experience," explains Dr. Kirk, who is coordinator of the series.

The lectures will be given 12 Wednesdays at 7:30 p. m. in the Science Lecture Hall.

On another evening, psychologists, social workers and others associated intimately with youth and its problems will "tell it like it is" about the drug scene. One of the speakers, a psychiatrist, has assisted young people who were on "bad trips" in the Haight-Ashbury and Telegraph Avenue areas in Northern California.

Rock music — the morse code of the teenager and a message for parents who are willing to listen, will be explained with demonstrations by the manager of a popular Los Angeles rock and roll radio station and a sociologist specializing in "pop" culture, says Dr. Kirk.

A Jesuit psychology professor and a Chinese classical scholar will talk about the kind of mysticism and meditation which has caught on with those youths who are looking for more than drug experiences.

Chapman Adds New Education Professors

The appointments of two new members of the education department faculty at Chapman College have been announced by Dr. John L. Davis, president of the college.

Beginning their new teaching assignments when the fall semester opens at Chapman this month will be Dr. Louis L. Gitin, from Buffalo, New York, as an assistant professor of education, and Dr. Kent L. Pillsbury, from Pomona, as an associate professor of education.

Dr. Gitin for the past ten years was assistant superintendent for pupil personnel services in the Buffalo Public Schools. He previously had been a social studies teacher, guidance counselor, and assistant principal in several Buffalo high schools, and during World War II served as a field director in the U. S. O.

Dr. Pillsbury last year was a lecturer in the Graduate School of Education at UCLA. He previously spent two years as an educational foundation specialist for Columbia University, assigned to the Faculty of Education at Kabul University in Afghanistan, where he developed text materials and coursework in comparative and international education and the philosophy of education.

A former social studies teacher in Los Angeles city schools, Dr. Pillsbury has been chairman of the department of adult and higher education in the College of Education at Arizona State University and has taught at Wisconsin State University, Eau Claire.

A message of importance to all people at The Rebellious Age.

There comes a time in your life when it seems absolutely right to rebel against old ideas. Against all the things that seem to be stacked up against your generation.

Unfortunately, religious faith is one of the things that may get discarded right about now.

But should it be?

Your faith echoes the very feelings you probably have right now. About injustice. Inhumanity. Poverty. Cruelty. Prejudice. Hate.

That's why your Faith is the very thing you should be working with.

It can strengthen you. It can make things happen. In yourself, and in all the world around. But only if you let it. And only if you put it to work.

President John F. Kennedy said: "God's work must truly be our own."

What do you say?

'Boheme' 'Fiaro' Set For Laguna's Lyric Opera Season

Tragedy and comedy are the individual themes of the two operas to be presented in English by the Lyric Opera Association this season.

On Sept. 27-28, the Lyric Opera Association, formerly known as the Festival of Opera, presents "La Boheme" by Puccini, and on Oct. 11-12, "The Marriage of Figaro" by Mozart.

All performances will be held at The Irvine Bowl in Laguna Beach. Tickets are now on sale at The Irvine Bowl box office and also at all Automobile Clubs of Southern California, Wallich's Music City Stores, and Liberty Ticket Agencies.

The Lyric Opera Association, a non-profit organization, has established membership categories which entitle advance subscribers to extra privileges during the opera season. "Friend" memberships, for $10, entitle the holder to receive the association newsletter, be invited to post-opera receptions, be included on the guest list of benefit events, and attend rehearsals at the Irvine Bowl.

"Sustaining" memberships at $50, include "Friend" privileges plus two free season tickets to both operas in the center section of Irvine Bowl, and two tickets to the Oct. 5 Opera Extravaganza Ball to be held at Anaheim Convention Center.

"Patron" memberships starting at $100, provide the same privileges plus four season tickets to both operas, seating in the loge section, two tickets to the Opera Extravaganza Ball, and Irvine Bowl parking privileges. Memberships are partially tax deductible.

Non-subscription season tickets for both performances range in price from $2.50 to $7. Reservations may be made by sending checks or money orders to the Lyric Opera Association; Irvine Bowl Box Office; 650 Laguna Canyon Road; Laguna Beach, Calif. 92651. Telephone orders may be placed by calling (714) 494-0709.

For preferred seating, reservations should be made early.

Saddleback Adopts Dress Code 'No Bare Feet-Unkept Hair'

Saddleback College has adopted a dress code described by Dr. Fred H. Bremer, superintendent-president, "to encourage the development of an image worthy of pride in the student body."

In adopting the code, the Board of Trustees stated that personal dress appearance is synonymous with mature impressions that are expected to be reflected in a college educational institution. It was added that the influence of various fads and styles in grooming and dressing apparel warrant regulations.

Listed as acceptable for campus were:

Men — Slacks, sweaters, sports jackets, suits, tailored bermudas, street shoes, tennis shoes, dress shoes, and neat and trim hair.

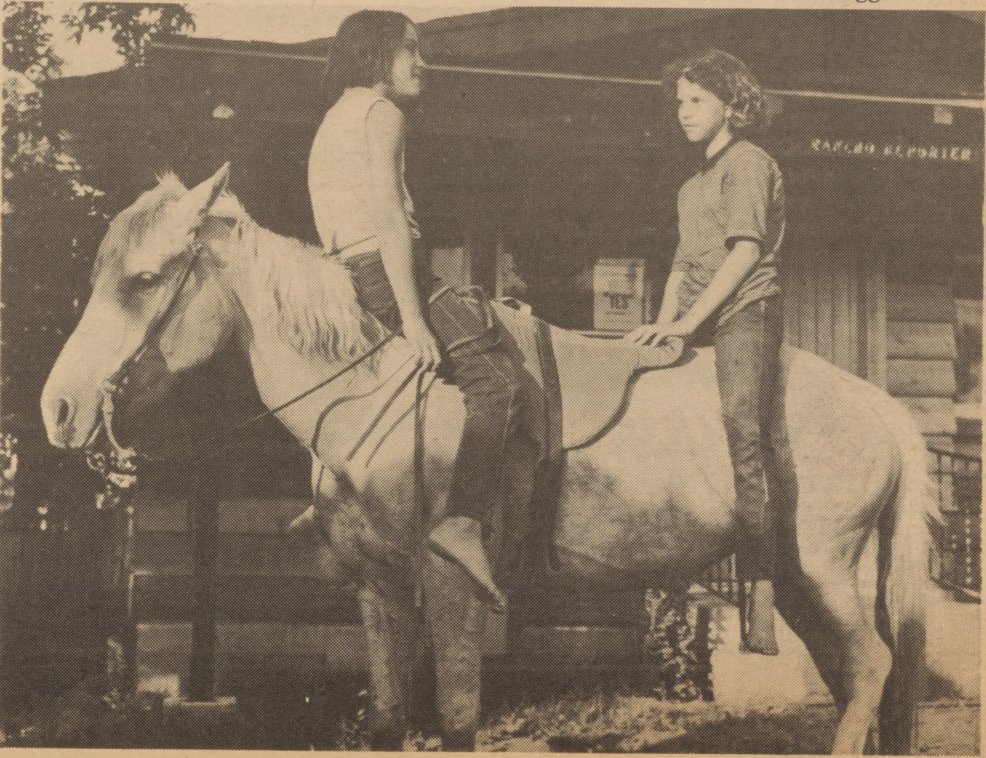

Women — Skirts and blouses or sweaters, sport dresses, flats, street shoes, heels, stylish and groomed hair, culottes, capris, slacks and tailored bermudas.

Listed as not acceptable were:

Men — Bar feet, cut-offs, shorts, slippers, sock shoes, footwear without socks, unkempt hair, and unkempt beards.

Women — Bare feet, shorts, thongs and unkempt hair.

Board President Michael T. Collins said that the Board expected suggestions regarding dress to be forthcoming from students when the college opens. He added, "And the Board will listen to these suggestions."

Air Cal Petitions PUC For More Air Routes

Air California last week asked the California Public Utilities Commission for permission to provide non-stop airline service between San Diego and the Northern California cities of San Jose and Oakland.

Air California proposed the San Diego Service in an amendment to its current application before the PUC which requests flights from Long Beach to San Jose and Oakland. The amendment asks for non-stop flights to the two Northern California cities from San Diego in addition to flights to those cities via Long Beach.

The PUC set a public hearing on Sept. 30 to consider Air California's original application from Long Beach to San Jose and Oakland.

At that time the PUC will also consider an application by Pacific Southwest Airlines for service from San Diego to Long Beach to San Francisco, San Jose and Oakland.

"We believe the people of the San Diego area need and are entitled to direct service to the Bay Area on a daily basis, rather than only on weekends, as is now offered and is proposed," said Carl Benscoter, Air California president.

NEW OFFICERS JOIN THE RANKS OF SHERIFF'S DEPARTMENT — Fifty-five Deputies of the Orange County Sheriff's Department pose for a group picture following graduation recently from the Sheriff's Academy. It is the largest single group ever to attend the Training Facility. For the first time, women participated in the program. All of the new Deputies are now undergoing additional training for operation of the new County Jail, to be opened in two months.

Sheriff's Academy Graduates Largest Number Of Recruits

The Orange County Sheriff's Department has graduated its largest class of Recruits in the history of the Academy, including four local residents, and, for the first time, women were among the Officer Cadets.

Supervisor C. M. "Cye" Featherly and Sheriff James A. Musick officiated at the August 30th graduation when fifty-five Deputies, eighteen of them women, received their diplomas in ceremonies held at the Sheriff's Training Academy in Orange.

The new Deputies underwent a 290-hour, seven-week accelerated training course which covered approximately thirty-nine police science and related subjects. The Sheriff's Academy is approved by the State of California Commission on Peace Office Standards and Training.

Nearly 1,000 applicants were screened in a three-month period to make up the Seventh Class of the Training Academy and, of the 64 accepted for the Academy, 14 percent - all men - resigned for various reasons. The women underwent the same academic and physical training as the men. "One thing that perplexes me," said Sheriff Musick, "is that of the nine Deputies who resigned from the Academy, not one was a member of the 'weaker sex'."

All of the graduates have been assigned to the new jail facility which is scheduled to open in two months. The Deputies will now undergo a special Academy for jail training for an additional four weeks.

Sheriff Musick stressed the significance of the peace officer's role in a free society and stated, "This is a proud moment for me," as he awarded the diplomas to the graduating Cadets.

El Toro and Mission Viejo residents winning diplomas were Mary Curtis, Art Gersztyn, Richard Matura, and Gary White.

Project Rancho Nazareth Aids Baja California Children

By Elizabeth Pedrotti

An overflow of generosity from the residents of this area would not be in vain if it is directed to Project Rancho Nazareth, report volunteers.

These ladies living in Laguna Hills are Mrs. James Kolberg, and Mrs. Ron Norris who make periodic trips to Tijuana carrying usable clothes, tools, food, soap, etc. to the poor, hungry, neglected and some abandoned children in Tijuana, Ensenada and Mexicali.

If you have anything to contribute to this desperate cause Mrs. Kolberg may be reached at 837-2758 and Mrs. Norris at 837-3254. They will provide you with more information and even pick-ups for the donated items.

As for Rancho Nazareth, this is the answer to a great need.

It was the creative dream of a handful of American and Mexican citizens who gathered together to originate a City for Children. It will consist of a Boys Ranch and a Girls School, rather than an orphanage. There will be spiritual training and education, including a trade and agricultural school.

The overall Director of this Aid for Baja California, Inc., is Rev. Henry Vetter. He points out that the orphanages in those areas South of the Border have had to refuse at least 100 requests to admit homeless children in the past year.

Father Vetter states that Nazareth is located in a beautiful mountain setting, 22 miles from the Tijuana Border, on the road east to Tecate. It covers 170 acres of extensive vineyard, fruit trees, and shade trees where they will raise cows and goats for milk, and chickens and pigs for meat. The land will provide not only a home for children, but a ranch and the means for an education for 1000 youngsters in the next ten years.

Money is needed to buy the ranch, and already a down payment has been made.

Tax-free pledges may be made as follows: $1.00 per month, $2.00 per month, or $15.00 per month which will keep one child at Nazareth for one month.

Aid for Baja California is an approved non-profit, non-sectarian California Corporation. You may make your contributions directly to Aid for Baja California, P. O. Box 367, Norwalk, California 90650. Or, you may earmark your AID or DO contribution for A. B. C.

THESE YOUNGSTERS SHOWN WITH FATHER HENRY VETTER, are some of the original 37 residents of Rancho Nazareth. They reside in the first structure which later will serve as administrative quarters. They are enjoying clean sheets and decent clothing perhaps for the first time in their lives.

Saddleback Inn Reveals Expansion

Announcement of an eighteen-room addition to its present facilities was announced this week by Bruce Gelker, owner of the Saddleback Inn, Santa Ana.

The newly-acquired project is directly opposite the hotel entrance on First St.

Known as the "Bunkhouse," the expanded property provides 18 new hotel rooms and executive offices, which will house the Saddleback Inns of America headquarters.

With 14 others featuring spacious double sleeping facilities, every room will have a color TV set.

Parking areas have been completed for 75 cars on the north side of First St., and for 100 cars on Lyon St.

"The architectural motif will be California Spanish to tie in with the main facility," said Gelker, who has retained the firm of Swank Gesler & Elder, general architects, Orange to handle the exterior face-lifting of the existing buildings on the site.

Glynn Brown, interior design expert, has been retained to do design and color coordination.

Simultaneous with the "Bunkhouse" addition, Charles Currier, hotel general manager, announced some interior design changes for the main hotel are now underway, part of which are new color TV sets to be installed in every room.

Construction, now in progress on the "Bunkhouse" project, is expected to be completed by October, this year.

Highway Experts Reveal Freeway Completion Dates

By Dan Wooldridge

During a recent interview on TV Channel VI by McKay Mitchell (the RANCHO REPORTER'S Old-Timer) and Frank Gory, Division of Highways Resident Engineer on the freeway widening project, disclosed some projected completion dates for the construction.

The addition of two lanes each way between the newly constructed San Diego-Santa Ana interchange to San Juan Capistrano will be opened early in February. Currently the highway is two lanes in each direction.

The lowering of El Toro Road at the freeway and widening to four lanes with a divider strip and foot path is the biggest task in the project.

This expansion has forced the construction of wider overpass bridges for both north and south bound freeway traffic. The existing shorter spans are being replaced with longer ones and this job is about 60 percent completed.

The complete San Diego Freeway from the Ventura Freeway to the junction with the Santa Ana Freeway will be opened in December. At that time there will be opened four lanes north bound from El Toro Road to the new freeway junction and three lanes north from there toward Las Angeles.

Money has been allocated to complete the widening to four lanes of the Laguna Freeway from the Santa Ana Freeway to the San Diego Freeway and beyond to the junction with Sand Canyon Road. The project includes an overcrossing for Caralotte (Paseo de Valencia) at the Laguna Freeway.

Knott's Independence Hall Scene For Patriotic Parade

The people of Los Angeles and Orange Counties are invited to attend and observe the 181st Anniversary of the signing of the Constitution of the United States.

The anniversary will be observed with a parade on Saturday, September 21, 1968, starting at 10 a. m., Orangethorpe Ave., in Buena Park, down Stanton Ave. to Knotts Berry Farm Independence Hall followed by an entertaining musical program.

The Masons and K. C.'s of Orange County have combined forces to present a program long to be remembered and it is anticipated that five thousand or more persons will turn out.

The parade will be made up of bands of all kinds; clowns, riders, performers, marching groups, and entertainers as well as many well known celebrities. The program following will be an entertaining group of lively young people known as "SING OUT ORGANE COUNTY" who are a part of the Sing Out America group.

Can Freeway Decision Belong To Residents?

Conflicts over urban freeway construction should be given to local citizen committees for solutions, rather than to "impartial" experts, according to a geographer from the University of California's new campus at Irvine.

"Choosing locations for urban freeways is essentially a political task, yet reliance on economic measures to guide decision makers persists in many states," Professor Gordon J. Fielding told the annual meeting of the Association of American Geographers in Washington, DC, last week.

Fielding said there has been great dissatisfaction over the "uncompromising attitude of highway engineers and their reliance on economic evaluation, to the neglect of social and psychological values." Changes were required by the revision of the Federal Highways Act in 1962, but effective means of evaluating indirect or community benefits and detriments are lacking.

Also neglected has been the freeway's role as a catalyst in changing the character of urban communities. The result often has been bitter local opposition to construction of new freeways, he said.

The California geographer proposed a system of increasing the participation of citizens from the affected communities in decisions affecting freeway routes. Panels of local residents would evaluate the consequences of highway improvement, aided by local specialists and information provided by state agencies

Youth Employment Service Expanding

New hours for the Youth Employment Service at Mission Viejo High School are 2 to 4 p. m., effective Monday, Sept. 16, according to Mrs. Ruth Dicks, office manager.

During these hours, employers may call the office to inquire about students available for work, and students may register or re-register.

Mrs. Dicks said the office also is accepting applications from Saddleback Junior College students.

THINGS WERE A BIT HECTIC when Mission Viejo's second elementary school, Linda Vista, went into service with 523 students last week. Only two out of three of the team-teaching rooms visible in this photo were sufficiently complete to be used and lights and carpets were missing in many rooms. Uninhabited bare ground 2½ years ago, Mission Viejo now has a population of over 7,000 and 4,400 students in its six schools.
